THE PEOPLE TO THE FORE.

The Carson Appeal says some of our party-colored contemporaries express the opinion that the present trend of politics in this State should be checked, as it might lead to a third party, which in the opinion of the Appeal is already here. The crack of the party whips, which a few years ago caused the voters to cower and cringe, now only excites derisive laughter. The people of Nevada have been tricked, robbed and humbugged year after year by conscienceless conjobulators masquerading as exponents of party politics. Continuing the Appeal says:

"The leaders of both parties, while apparently the bitterest enemies in Nevada, meet at midnight at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, and then make the most shameless trades and bargains. When they meet to job the people and divide the spoils, all pretense of party lines are obliterated and they are merely a conclave of hoodlums concocting schemes to hoodwink the voters of Nevada and loot the State. "There has been no Republican nor Democratic party in Nevada for years. It is merely the Palace Hotel party, whose Central Committee has its headquarters and principal place of business in San Francisco.

"The people of Nevada are a confiding class and they will stand a good deal, but there is a certain point beyond which they cannot be driven. They are making a stand now all over the State, and will strike a blow for their rights. The outcome will be a Silver party in the Silver State. They build a platform that no gold bug or weak-kneed silver man can stand on. They will cast off the old garments of hoodlums and bossism and pitch them into a corner as a man discards a suit of lousy underclothes that are unfit for the wash.

"They will remove the big 'copper' that has been holding down Nevada and go in for State development and prosperity, and the Silver party will see that when the citizens of Nevada vote, their votes will be counted and San Francisco will no longer be the Capital of Nevada."

HARRISON'S NOMINATION ASSURED.

Disputes from Washington state that according to the records kept at Mr. Harrison's headquarters, enough delegates have already been instructed for Harrison to insure his nomination at Minneapolis. He has now a clear majority pledged to vote for him besides a large number of uncommitted delegates, who, with the hope of receiving favors in the event of his election, and knowing that in any event they cannot prevent his nomination, will vote for him. There is nothing, therefore, except death, that will prevent Benjamin Harrison from being the nominee of the Republican party for President, as he is more than anxious to receive the nomination and succeed himself.

Conceding the nomination of Mr. Harrison as assured on an anti-silver platform, what do those who think it is better for the people of the silver producing States to divide politically than to prevent an unbroken front to the enemy, advise the people to do? Will the men who last Saturday in convention assembled denounced Mr. Harrison and Eastern Republicans, advise the people of Nevada to vote for Mr. Harrison and unite with those wicked Eastern Republicans to elect him? Eastern people vote for what they believe to be their own interests; there any valid reason why the people of the West should not do likewise? If there is not there should be a unanimous vote in Nevada, as in other Western States, for a free coinage President, and neither Republicanism nor Democracy should figure in the campaign. Let the people vote for themselves this year. Next year the parties may be worthy of the people's support.

THE SILVER LEAGUES.

Reports from various parts of the State are to the effect that about four thousand voters have joined Silver Leagues and pledged themselves, and in some instances taken a solemn oath, to do all in their power to secure the full recoinstitution of silver. In the eastern part of the State nine-tenths of the voters are enrolled, and clubs are also organized in Nye and Esmeralda counties. In Lyon county there are flourishing Silver Leagues in Dayton and Silver City, and more are being organized by the farmers. There is also a League in Ormsby county with a good membership. Last night Washoe county took the matter in hand, and over fifty citizens enrolled themselves members of the Washoe County Silver League, among them some of the most prominent business and professional men, and sturdy farmers. The ball is now rolling in every county in Nevada, except Storey, where for some reasons, doubtless political, the bosses who control the mines do not seem to favor the plan of campaign, which is to present an unbroken front to the Eastern gold men.

A cyclone swept through parts of Kansas Monday evening leaving destruction in its track. Near Kinsler several residences were demolished and three persons killed. Ten miles south of Topeka a number of farm houses and barns were blown down.

The California Republican Convention, which assembled at Stockton yesterday, declared against the free coinage of silver, and fearful lest the people might have too much money, want the coinage restricted to the American product.

Fifteen States are represented at the meeting of Alliance Presidents at Birmingham, Alabama, and the sentiment favors a third party.

Steps are being taken in Michigan to test the constitutionality of the Act of the Legislature relating to Presidential electors.

The Conference Report on the Chinese Exclusion Bill Adopted by the Senate - Koresanally Converts Keach Chicago.

Want Free Silver Lead Ores.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Representative Whitney of Michigan has prepared and will submit to the House a report of the majority of the Ways and Means Committee recommending the passage of the bill to place on the free list silver lead ores, when silver exceeds lead in value. The report says the McKinley law imposed a duty of one and a half cents a pound on lead in silver ores "with results of increased and increasing injury to American smelters and all interests connected therewith." The use of silver lead ores for smelting dry silver ores mined in the United States is an imperative necessity, and they are not only required as raw material for smelting, but essential as a tool of industry. The American smelter must secure this tool, and as the domestic supply does not meet the demand, heavy importations of Mexican ores are made. Now, however, new conditions confront the smelting interests of the country and threaten, unless the relief proposed is granted, quick transfer across the Mexican border of a larger proportion of the smelting industry, to the great injury of American labor and railroads and other kindred pursuits. The results of the McKinley Act have been to benefit foreign interests and injure our people, and unless quickly remedied, the injurious results will be past care. In conclusion the report says that while the bill will not cure the evils of the present law created, it promptly adopted it will modify the injurious effect upon our home industries. The Foreign Affairs Committee suggested that this concession would probably be of mutual advantage in securing reciprocity with Mexico.

California Republicans Against Free Coinage.

Stockton, Cal., May 3.—The Republican State Convention held its session this evening and received and adopted reports of the Committees on Credentials and Permanent Organization and Order of Business. The temporary organization was made permanent. There was considerable debate on the proposition of prohibiting office holders from serving on the State Central Committee, but the proposition was finally defeated. The Committee on Platform was not ready to make report and the convention adjourned until to-morrow morning.

The Committee on Platform and Resolutions was in session several hours this afternoon and finally adopted a lengthy platform, of which the following is a synopsis. President Harrison's Administration is endorsed, as are his actions in the Chile, Italy and Behring Sea controversies. The plan of reciprocity was endorsed, also Governor Markham's Administration. A revision of the naturalization and immigration laws was demanded so that undesirable people who are sent, or come voluntarily here can be kept out. Improvement in the enforcement of the eight-hour labor law was demanded and the election of U. S. Senators by popular vote endorsed, and the resolutions declared against the free coinage of silver and want coinage restricted to the product of American mines, and the Government to control and encourage the speedy construction of the Nicaragua Canal is favored.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—In speaking on the conference report on the Chinese Exclusion bill, Senator Sherman looked upon the introduction of Chinese laborers through Canada as an insult to the United States. Such incidents created excitement which would some day be the cause of a great difficulty. Those who believed the United States had the right to trample on the treaty and to disregard it, might vote for the conference report without compunction, but he did not feel at liberty to do so.

Dolph of Oregon defended the report. Dawes opposed it as being a violation of the treaty.

Vest was not disposed to violate any treaties, but considered self-preservation is the first law of nations as well as of individuals.

Palmer could not vote for the conference report because of the provision that Chinese men coming to the United States could not be admitted, which was unnecessarily harsh; also because of the provision for the arrest of Chinese men not provided with certificates.

A vote was then taken on the conference report, which was agreed to; yeas, 30; nays, 15.

The House bill placing binding time on the free list, was laid before the Senate and referred to the Finance Committee.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

Koresanally Converts.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Sixty of Dr. Cyrus Teed's California converts arrived at the College of Life this morning. The delegation consisted of old and young men and women, people of all trades and professions. Among the number was Mrs. Knight, a niece of Ohas. Crocker, the millionaire. Mrs. Knight is a widow of 48 years, and has three children, two girls and a boy, ranging in age from 17 to 20. They are now in the University of California. As soon as they have finished their education they will join their mother and devote their lives to Dr. Teed and the promulgation of his doctrines. It is said that Mrs. Knight has given all her wealth into the hands of Teed. When the Doctor was asked about Mrs. Knight he said: "Oh, she embraced Koresanally like thousands of others. The world is going to be converted to my doctrine. No, I would rather you would not see Mrs. Knight; we have just arrived, as you see. All of the California people are tired and do not care to be interviewed. There are about one hundred and fifty more on the Pacific Coast who will arrive in Chicago in a few days. I cannot tell just when." "Have you closed a deal for the Washington Heights property?" "Yes, all the papers are signed and we will move into them some time this week. I know of no opposition from the people of Washington Heights. We intend to go there and make our home." It was reported that the people of Washington Heights suburb of Chicago, where Teed proposes to locate, would far and feather him.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The House went into a Committee of the Whole on the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill.

Blount of Georgia moved to strike out the appropriation of $65,000 to continue the preliminary survey for an inter-oceanic railway. He believed that if the proposition was enacted into a law the United States would be pledged to the construction of a railroad, and furnish a subsidy to do so if necessary.

After debate the motion was agreed to and the committee arose and reported the bill as amended to the House. The bill then passed.

The Senate amendments to the Army Appropriation bill was non-concurred in and a conference was ordered. The House then adjourned.

Harrison the Nominee.

New York, May 3.—The Mail and Express to-day admits that President Harrison's renomination is an assured fact. In support of the statement it prints a table of instructed delegates, from compilations figures received from the State and district conventions already held all over the country. It shows a total of 302. The paper continues as follows: "Private information received from others who are either chosen delegates or will be, and who in the absence of instructions can vote as they wish, 211 have already put themselves on record as intending to vote for Harrison. These delegates give an absolutely accurate record."

Main and Snow in the East.

St. Paul, May 3.—Dispatches from several points in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota report yesterday's rain followed last night and to-day by heavy snow, which in some sections covered the ground two or three inches deep.

Beauty as a National Trait.

Is there any handsome people on the face of the globe? Now, we may set aside the black and yellow and polychrome races in general, many of whom are well shaped and like bronze statues to look upon, but who do not come up to the Aryan standard in features and color. Leaving these children of nature out of the question, it may be confessed that there is no race among whom beauty is common. If the ancient Greeks were like their statues, then there once was a beautiful race, but it is not so certain that they did not idealize themselves a good deal. There is the more reason to guess this, as when they have to represent a barbarian, say a Gaul or a German or a professional prize fighter, they make these people as handsome as themselves, though in a rougher way.

There is a famous bronze statue of a boxer, who might be taken for an orator or a poet, except for his heavy metal studded gloves. This it may be deemed that there is a great proportion of the ideal in these statues, vases, coins and figures, where every one is so graceful and goodly. Every nation has a high opinion of its own charms. The French pride themselves on small feet, and it is certain that their women walk very lightly, and have cunning bootmakers. London News.

Keep the Least for Himself.

Three ragged newsboys were trying to sell the earlier editions of the afternoon papers. A man carrying a large basket of fine looking oranges on his shoulder passed close by. The motion of his body loosened one of the biggest and ripest and it fell to the ground. The man kept on, not noticing or caring for the loss. The orange lay upon the pavement for about half a minute unseen. Then the largest of the three ragged urchins spied it, and with a cry of delight he ran over and picked it up. It was natural to suppose that he would proceed to eat it all himself, but instead of doing so he called his companions and exhibited his find. They eyed it greedily.

Without any request from them for a share in the coveted fruit the finder divided the orange into three parts and gave his fellow newsboys each a part. The smallest part he reserved for himself. It was only a small thing in itself, yet it proved, I thought, that there was something noble hidden under the ragged garments of that little urchin.—New York Recorder.

Wives of Some English Writers.

Beaconsfield married a lively young widow, who made him perfectly happy, and he never lost an occasion of singing her praises. Dr. Arnold, of Rugby, is cited as having an almost ideal home life, and also the late Dean Stanley. All the world knows how happy the Gladstones are in their family circle, and so it is with many others.

Successful Hunting.

One day last week while George J. Teed and Fat Wyane, of Oglethorpe county, were out hunting, the former found a couple of partridges on the ground, and wishing to kill both, fired at them. He was more than surprised on going to pick them up to find that he had killed not only the two he saw, but seventeen others besides, none of which he had seen.—Savannah News.

Fire Loss for Last Year.

An unusual amount of inventive talent is now being used to prevent the occurrence of fires. The spur in this line is caused by the statement of fire losses in the United States and Canada during 1891, which aggregated $135,000,000, an increase of 20 per cent. over 1890.—New York Times.

An eagle measuring 7 feet 6 inches from tip to tip of wings was shot in Montgomery county, Md., a few days ago.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet, which develop ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can SCROFULA Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of those cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, a sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLTON, Nauright, N. J. N. B. A SILVER CLUB ORGANIZED.
Over Fifty Members Sign the Roll.
The meeting was called to order at 7:45 p. m. by Dr. H. Bergstein, who stated the object of the meeting—the formation of a Silver League. E. D. Kelly was unanimously elected President pro tem., and C. A. Norcross Secretary.

BREVITIES.
Charles Torney of Tascara is in town. Ex-Governor Adams spent yesterday in Reno.
A treasure for the household: Lightning Fluid.
Three inches of snow fell in Virginia City Monday.
Hon. Ross Lewis of Franktown visited Reno yesterday.
W. D. Jones of the Austin Advocate, arrived last night.
District Attorney Plummer of Elko county arrived in Reno last night.

Mr. Book made an extended speech in favor of the formation of a Silver League. At the close of his remarks, it was moved to lay the resolutions upon the table temporarily, and organize.
The roll was then opened for signatures and all present were invited to become members of the League.
Gen. Downing made an eloquent address stating that it was necessary for Nevada to fight for her own. That there was no possible combination by which the three electoral votes of Nevada could have any influence in determining the election of the President as between either of the old parties. That there was, however, a possibility of Nevada's three votes having an influence as between the two old parties and a third party if committed to silver, and that he was in favor of aggressive action. "As for myself," said the General, "I will support no man for President who is an enemy to silver." The speech of General Downing voiced the sentiments of the house and was received with applause.

The State Board of Assessors and Equalization will hold a meeting next Monday.
Purgings in refrigerators, lawn mowers and garden hose at Lange & Schmitt's.
Hon. A. C. Cleveland spent yesterday in Reno and returned to San Francisco last night.
Winterilla is the balm of a thousand flowers. Your toilet is not complete without it.
Plumbing, tinning and pipe work done at the lowest possible prices by Lange & Schmitt.

Professor Bray, Messrs. Courier, Mapes, Bergstein and others also addressed the meeting.
The persons whose names are attached then signed the following:
"We, the undersigned voters of Washoe county, hereby enroll ourselves members of the Washoe County Silver League."

Ex-Governor Adams is driving from 800 to 1,000 head of cattle from Mason Valley to Wadsworth for shipment.
Daniel Meyer arrived from San Francisco yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Nevada Bank.
Judge Belknap of the Supreme Court has arrived at home. The Tribune says he is feeling well though feeble from his protracted sickness.
Professor Hoskins will furnish the music for the entertainment and social dance to be given by the Young Ladies' Institute at Armory Hall, Friday evening, May 6th.

Professor Hoskins will furnish the music for the entertainment and social dance to be given by the Young Ladies' Institute at Armory Hall, Friday evening, May 6th.
The Journal acknowledges the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the social dance to be given by the Young Ladies' Institute at Armory Hall, Friday evening, May 6th.
Mrs. Emily Pitt Stevens, National Organizer of the W. C. T. U., will speak in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Every body should hear her.

In consequence of the destruction of the Eureka Mill on the Carson river 137 men have been laid off at the C. & C. shaft, Virginia City, leaving but 135 men employed.
Rev. Mr. Van Deelen, the new Rector of Trinity Church, will assume the Pastoralship of the Bishop's School for Girls at the present term, which ends next month.
The Times-Review says the U. S. Weather Observer at Tascara has recorded but one entirely clear day during the present month, and that was Wednesday of this week.

The Chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of two to get the signatures of all the voters in the county who desired to join the League. The meeting then adjourned to meet at the Court-house next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE FUTURE OF AMEREE.
Should he take the alkaline properties, so abundant about the leading springs of the town, as the only evidence thereabout when making up his mind upon the future of the town. The alkaline properties, so plentiful at the springs, is an argument that may not be successfully answered in favor of the valley for home making purposes. From these properties came, I may say, without exaggeration, the everlasting soil wealth of the valley. Were it not that these and other mineral properties are abundant in the country, there would be no boiling springs or alkali deposits in the valley. The alkali upon the ground where it may be seen, alarm many people who have not thought upon the necessity of its presence in the soil for a healthy and full development or growth in vegetable life, or that it becomes plant food wherever defused by the forces and action of nature.

HONEY LAKE VALLEY.
Something About Soils—Liberal Railroad Policy.
Editor JOURNAL:—Amere, the town at the northern terminus of the N. C. O. Railway, shows enterprise and confidence in the future of Honey Lake Valley. I have had confidence in the future of the valley from the time I first knew it, many years ago, and the confidence suggested by my first view of the beautiful plain has been confirmed upon each visit I have made to the valley. The casual observer would, no doubt, as a rule, arrive at an adverse conclusion upon

THE FUTURE OF AMEREE.
Should he take the alkaline properties, so abundant about the leading springs of the town, as the only evidence thereabout when making up his mind upon the future of the town. The alkaline properties, so plentiful at the springs, is an argument that may not be successfully answered in favor of the valley for home making purposes. From these properties came, I may say, without exaggeration, the everlasting soil wealth of the valley. The alkali upon the ground where it may be seen, alarm many people who have not thought upon the necessity of its presence in the soil for a healthy and full development or growth in vegetable life, or that it becomes plant food wherever defused by the forces and action of nature.

EVIDENCE OF FERTILITY.
Certain minerals enter human and other animal bodies as food, but when more is taken than is required for health and food purposes, they become poisonous and are destructive to animal life. Upon a like principle, when there are more mineral or alkaline properties in the soil than are necessary for plant food, they are taken up by plants and become poisons that are destructive to plant life.

The Eureka Sentinel says that while Mr. Wren was scoring both parties at the silver meeting for their ill-treatment of silver, a gentleman in the audience remarked: "Well, I have seen Tom Wren on the stump a number of times, but I never heard him tell the truth before."

FINANCIAL CATECHISM.
Some Interesting Figures and Facts.
Question—What is the aggregate amount of interest bearing debts, public and private, in the United States?
Answer—It is more than thirty billion dollars.

Q—What is the assessed value of all the property in the United States?
A—It is about twenty-five billion dollars.
Q—What is the amount of gold coin in the United States at the present time?
A—Six hundred million dollars.

Q—What kind of money do the gold bugs think these thirty billion dollars of debts should be paid in?
A—In gold coin.
Q—How are the debtors going to pay a debt of thirty billion dollars with six hundred million dollars of gold?
A—That is an impossibility; the bondholders don't want the people to get out of debt, for just as soon as they are out of debt they are out of bondage, and the bondholders' calling is gone.

Q—Then, under our present system of finance, there can be no hope of ultimate redemption?
A—No, not if the bondholders can prevent it.
Q—What makes money so much more plentiful in the Eastern cities than it is out West?
A—All the large bondholders keep their money there and will not let it re-enter circulation only through one channel.

Q—By what route do the bondholders let this money get back into circulation again?
A—Through more bonds and mortgages.
Q—Do the bondholders have a string on this money to draw it back again?
A—It is turned over to the bondholders twice a year to settle the interest account.
Q—Do not the debts of the people keep on increasing?
A—Yes, and at the present rate of increase by the year 1920 the debtors of the United States will owe over one hundred billion dollars.

Q—Who dictates the financial legislation at Washington?
A—The gold bug league of London, Paris, Berlin and New York.
Q—Who are their agents in Washington?
A—Harrison, Harter, Sherman & Co.
Q—Have the bondholders any choice between Cleveland or Gorham for President?
A—No, neither one of those Democrats will be satisfactory.

Q—Who will the gold bug league allow to be nominated in the Republican Convention?
A—They will let the delegates choose between Harrison, Sherman, Alger or McKinley.
Q—What are the people going to do about it?
A—They are going to nominate a ticket in opposition to the money oligarchs, with free coinage of silver and financial reform as their platform.
Q—What will be the result of the election?
A—The People's party will triumph and the dawn of prosperity will appear.

To Whom It May Concern:
Action has been taken on the part of many, and particularly on the part of Mrs. W. D. Hardin of Steamboat, who have friends laid away in the cemetery at Washoe City to place the grounds in a better condition than they are now in. Many graves are in such form that it is impossible to properly locate them. Those having relatives or friends buried in the grounds are requested to meet at the cemetery on May 10th next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of giving such aid and information as they can give in the matter of properly locating the graves of departed friends. By request,

DEATH IS PAINLESS.

THE LAST SENSATIONS IN THIS WORLD ARE HAPPY ONES.

As the End of Life Approaches Nature Seems to Bring Her Peculiar Anesthetic and the Sufferer Passes Away Without the Agony of Sickness.

A human being's death was formerly considered a great struggle, and vivid, almost shocking, descriptions of the phenomena of dying were given in such exaggerated forms that none cared to think of the supreme moment when death should come to them. Euthanasia, or the pleasure of dying, takes the very opposite view and proclaims death to be easy and almost painless.

As the end of life approaches nature often brings her peculiar anesthetic and the person passes off without suffering half the agony which the sickness causing the death brought to the patient. Even meeting a violent death in the jaws of wild beasts have a few seconds of calm preparation before dying, which brings relief and a certain degree of pleasure. The great trouble in death is the sickness and pain which carries one to the door of death, and it is at such moments that one suffers all the torment and agony of a dozen deaths.

The pleasures of dying can only be likened to those of the dreamy morphiae addict, who gradually passes off into a semiconscious state where everything seems like floating visions of bliss. The body and nerves are numb, and the excited, overwrought brain becomes quiet and unexcited.

The imagination plays fancifully with blissful pictures, and the whole condition of the nervous system is of pleasurable excitement. The dying man experiences the same relief and pleasure when the struggles are over and the cold limbs grow stiff and numb.

BLISS BEFORE THE END.
Persons frozen in blinding snowstorms have reported their sensations accurately, and they all agree that after a certain amount of suffering which every one feels at first in extreme cold they enter into a blissful state from which they do not wish to be roused.

Morphine, cocaine, ether and laudanum bring to the patient this same mental and nervous condition, and patients resent any attempt to rouse them from their dreamy state. Nature supplies her own anesthetic before the important moment has arrived.

Before the death rattle is heard the convulsed frame relaxes, the signs of pain and suffering on the face disappear, and often a smile partly opens the lips. The whole body shows signs of a painless moment, and if the mind wanders and the tongue utters words they are all of pleasure and joy.

Those who have watched at hundreds of deathbeds have noted that death was easy, and officers in battle have testified that the last moments of dying soldiers were painless. People who have been in the jaws of wild beasts in India and have been rescued at the last moment, testify that a numbing calmness was experienced after the first sharp, painful snap of the teeth upon them. In fact the approach of every creature's fate brings with it a kindly preparation when life is blissful and full of pleasure. The last sensation in this world is then one of joy and not excruciating pain.

The real knowledge of euthanasia certainly diminishes if it does not entirely relieve the dread of many of the last struggle, which has been made so horrible by descriptions of its agony.

PLEASURES OF DYING.

The pleasures of dying may remove a great burden from the minds of hundreds who are inevitably approaching death. The old fashioned notion that death would be terrible had a baleful influence upon those who were fighting insidious diseases, and many aggravated their complaints by feverishly dreading the pain of the last struggle. In this way a great deal of harm was done, and many sufferers hastened their own end.

Even in the case of poisoning, the pain suffered is only when the system combats against the desire to yield to the influence of the drug. Sleep generally steals over the person, and only the dreamy pleasures caused by the poison and of dying are again experienced in this world. The greatest pain felt is that of the stomach pump, which may be applied in time to recall the suicide to life, and in every case they rebel against this most emphatically. That the suffering is not so terrible may be surmised from the fact that persons who have once attempted suicide frequently make the second or third attempt.

It is a fact that the pain of death is frequently far less than the pain that accompanies many diseases that are not fatal. The pain of rheumatism, for instance, is probably more severe than the usual pain of dying. So is the pain of neuralgia or the pain of the toothache.

Death often, indeed, comes as silently and painlessly as sleep. Those at the bedside cannot see exactly when the vital spark of life gives out with any more certainty than you can tell when a drowsy person passes from semiconsciousness to actual sleep. If we were not all familiar with the phenomenon of sleep how we should stand affrighted on the brink before yielding our body and body to the absolute unconsciousness of healthy sleep.—Dr. W. D. Atkinson.

Superstitious Wearers of Rings.

The use of amulets for disease seems to belong to a past age, yet, in truth, superstition is almost as rife today as in the romantic times when people discovered fairy rings in the meadows and, by every wandering stream, the footprints of the water sprites. It hardly seems possible that copper rings or metal rings of iron or other base metal should be worn today to ward off disease. Yet there are wise people, men of affairs, who would scorn to show superstition in greater things, who are firmly convinced that they owe immunity from disease to some such token.—Exchange.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

SHE HAD TO SAY "FLY."

An Amateur Performer Who Insisted Upon Following the Lines.

It is not often that professional actors get mixed up in amateur theatricals, but when they do, as a rule, their lives are made miserable until the affair is over. A few years ago a young woman, who was one of the reigning belles of the Four Hundred in this city, wrote a romantic play, plentifully sprinkled with singing and dancing. She read the play to her intimate friends, and they one and all unanimously declared that it should be produced at one of the theaters where amateur performances are held, and that the author should play the part of the heroine. After much coaxing the lady consented. The play was called "Kismet." The cast was selected from among the best amateurs, the leading man being the head and front of them. The scene of the play was laid in Turkey, in the garden and palace of the sultan. The plot was hinged on the abduction of two beautiful girls and their final rescue.

A clever professional stage manager was engaged at a big salary and rehearsals began. Everything went along as smoothly as could be expected until the last rehearsal, which took place on the morning of the day appointed for the production, when a note was hastily delivered to the stage manager saying that the leading lady and author had lost her voice completely, and that her physician had ordered her not to leave the house. She was very sorry, but advised that a professional actress be engaged to take her place. Here was "a pretty kettle of fish"—how to get an actress at so short a notice. The costumes must be fitted and the part learned before 7 p. m. The manager thought of a friend of his, Mrs. Addie Plunkett, Charles Plunkett's wife, who had just closed her season with Lawrence Barrett and who was then at liberty. He sent for her and requested her to return with the messenger. She did so, and after a long talk with the stage manager consented to rehearse the part. She was nervous, of course.

In the garden scene her sister's lover has discovered her hiding place and they are having a loving interview, the heroine remaining on the lookout for interruptions, which may occur in the form of the sultan's servants, which would mean death to the intruder. At a certain cue the heroine rushes up to her sister's fiancé and tells him to "Fly! fly for your life—some one approaches!" and the lover is pushed through a wicket and escapes. Mrs. Plunkett rehearsed the scene carefully and told the leading man that in case she should forget to say all the lines she would make him understand when it was time for him to make his exit. Thus it was settled between them. Evening came, and the time for the curtain to be rung up arrived. Most of the performers had stage fright, one fair amateur declaring that she had entirely forgotten her lines and was sure that she would faint from sheer fright.

The performance began and Mrs. Plunkett struggled bravely through her part, dropping an occasional speech now and then, but with professional tact she covered up her mistakes so that the audience was none the wiser. When the garden scene was reached the lover appeared in good time and she stood guard until the proper cue was given. It came all right, but alas for Mrs. Plunkett, she had forgotten her lines. When she heard the sultan's guard approach she rushed to the lover and said, "Away! begone!" but she received no response from that gentleman. She pushed him and tried to get him to go through the wicket, as agreed upon, but he refused to budge an inch, and said to her in a stage whisper, "Say 'Fly! fly!'" but Mrs. Plunkett was beyond speech by this time, so she continued to push him toward the wicket.

Her efforts were useless, however, for he resisted and declared he would not go until she said, "Fly! fly for your life, some one approaches," so the audience can hear you." Still she could not speak, but with one heroic effort she gave him a tremendous push that sent him flying through the wicket and into some stage bushes which had been artistically arranged at the back of the stage. When the performance was over Mrs. Plunkett heaved a sigh of relief and said, "This is the first and last amateur performance for me!"—New York Tribune.

The Growth of Two Cities.

Just as the Atlantic cities were surprised when Chicago distanced all but two of them in population, and challenged all of them by her enterprise, so will they be astonished again and from another quarter if they refuse to study the forces that are operating to build up new capitals in the west. In another ten years there will be another claim of a million population, and the counting of heads will not make nonsense of it. The new and wonderful assumption of metropolitan importance will be that of the twin cities of the wheat region—Minneapolis and St. Paul. They may not be joined under one name and government—opinions differ about that—but all agree that they will jointly possess a million of population. The last census credited Minneapolis with 164,700 population and St. Paul with 133,000, or, jointly, 297,000. At the time of the preceding census (1880) the two cities included about 88,000 souls. At that rate of increase they will boast in 1900 a population of 976,000 and more.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

Don't read! Don't think! Don't believe! Now, are you better? You women who think that patent medicines are a humbug, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the biggest humbug of the whole (because it's best kind of all)—does your lack of faith cure come?

It is very easy to "don't" in this world. Suspicion always comes more easily than confidence. But doubt—little faith—never made a sick woman well—and the "Favorite Prescription" has cured thousands of delicate, weak women, which makes us think that our "Prescription" is better than your "don't believe." We're both honest. Let us come together. You try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If it doesn't do as represented, you get your money again.

Not in the Purchase.

Many New England farms are known to the people in the surrounding country by the names of former owners, who perhaps moved away or died many years ago. Martin Baker came from "York state" to live on a fine old Vermont farm.

The farm had belonged to his cousin, another Baker, and the present owner was cultivating it, as he said, "to the very top of the notch."

He painted a sign for the barn, which announced to all beholders that this was "Mountain View Farm," but to his disgust he heard his new property spoken of on every hand as "old Bachelor place."

His patience was greatly tried by this fact, and at last he broke out in a rage one day when a farmer who lived a short distance from him was explaining to a newcomer that he, Martin Baker, was a man who was "skin up the old Bachelor place an' called it 'Beverly' kentry round."

"I ain't calculatin' to have it known as the 'Bachelor place,' though, I can tell you!" blazed Martin Baker, turning upon his petrified neighbor. "Haven't I lived on the place over a year now? Didn't I buy it and pay hard cash for it? Didn't I buy the stock, and the pasture land, and the wood lots, and the meadows, and everything that ever belonged to Bachelor? My cousin didn't own all the land, but I do. I've bought every inch of it and paid for it. What is there I ain't done in the buyin' line in regard to that farm, and why don't the folks call it by the name I've given it? It mads me!"

"I see it does; I see it does," replied the old farmer calmly. "Ye see, friend Baker, there's just one way ye've over speculated a grain. Ye ain't bought all of us old folks' recollections; an' I'm afraid ye won't be able to fr a year or so 't put a low finger on it. I calculate it's one of them few cases where 'time shows for more'n money!'—Yuth's Companion.
